

All the White Horses

Looking back at my reflection
Broken pictures in my head
I was scattered into nothingness
by everything you did
And I don't think you ever listened, really...
To the lyrics of my songs
You just took it all for granted id be here
But you were wrong
You were wrong

I'm all out of hate
With no tears to cry
Whatever we had
Has already died
Ive found somewhere else
To keep my heart
So this is goodbye
Wherever you are
There's a crescent moon
High Above the sea
And all the white horses
Are breaking free
So this is goodbye
Wherever you are
This is goodbye
To Whoever you were

(Into the mirror darkly)

I used to think I wasn't good enough for you
Until I learned the truth
That no matter what I said or did
You were only loving you
So Im taking back what you discarded
And im writing my next song
And if you think that its about you
Well, then
You'd be wrong
You'd be wrong

I'm all out of hate

With no tears to cry
Whatever we had
Has already died
I've found somewhere else
To keep my heart
So this is goodbye
Wherever you are
There's no reason for tears
No more reason to fall
No point in pretending
You knew me at all
There's a crescent moon
High Above the sea
Are breaking free

(Into the mirror darkly, standing face to face)

I'm all out of hate
With no tears to cry
Whatever we had
Has already died
I've found somewhere else
To keep my heart
So this is goodbye
Wherever you are
There's no reason to run
There's No reason to fall
I'm so much stronger
At the end of it all
There's a crescent moon
High Above the sea
And all the white horses
Are breaking free

I used to think I wasn't good enough for you
But what I need to be
Is good enough
For me
(Breaking waves
All the white horses
Fly away)
